A Note from Miss Sears

Happy New Year! Thank you all for your prayers while I was away with baby Timothy. I am so grateful for the time we got to spend together. Now I am ready for the rest of this year and ready to work with your children to help them grow spiritually and academically.

If you are able, we are in need of some school supplies. We need most immediately pencils and paper towels. I would greatly appreciate any help in restocking our supplies in the classroom. As you know, we use paper towels multiple times a day to clean our surfaces, so these are very important!

Don't forget, part of our expectations as a community is to attend weekly Mass on Saturday night or Sunday. As parents, we are our child's first teacher. If you are unable to attend Mass in person, there are many churches that are still doing livestream Mass. If you would like a list of these, please let me know. I will also add more churches to our class website.

All students have finished or are very close to finishing their i-Ready diagnostic assessments. These assessments help us know what level your child is at in reading and math. We talked as a class about taking our time and showing what we know to make sure we are at the right level. i-Ready homework will resume next week. If you need a device at home, please contact me so we can make arrangements for your child.

Our academics will begin going quicker as we move through January. Please help your child meet these challenging expectations by encouraging them to complete all of their homework and get a good night of rest each night.

Next week progress reports go home. Please review these with your child and return it signed in the Thursday folder. You can also check your child's grades by logging in to PowerSchool online. Please let me know if you have any questions.
